should be taken in what we eat and drink, yet we are too often indifferent and careless, notwithstanding health depends on what we eat nothing but the best should he taken. It costs no more than the indifferent quality, if people would only ask for what they know is the best. Old Scotch Whisky is the most wholesome beverage yet known Mackie's Scotch Whisky gives an undoubted guarantee to those who are not judges of quality.

CITY ANALYST'S LABORATORY, 138 BATH STREET,

CLASCOW, 8th October, 1906.

I hereby certify that I have taken samples of every vatting of Mackle's White Horse Cellar Blend of Scotch Whisky used in bottling during the month of September, and the results of my analyses indicate that it conforms to the standard for Pot Still Scotch Whisky set up in the London case. I am also of opinion that it is an old Whisky of excellent quality and flavour, which has been well matured in wood.

THE "EGYPTIAN STANDARD."

We were recently compelled to express our pinions re the accusations made by "Al Lewa" and its European editions with some vigour. We were not surprised when a few days later a notice in large type appropriately labelled "Falsehood," and appearing in the "Egyptian Standard," accused the "Egyptian Standard"—be correct, we can only inform the Gazette of wilful misstatements, and declared Nationalist leader that we have answered his that Mustapha Pasha's organs had merely challenge and that we throw back in his teeth reproduced a communication from the Omdeh his accusation of lying.

of Warrak and had in no way accused M.

Grandmoulin" of wilful murder. Sunday's Egyptian Standard" contains an article from Mustapha Pasha Kamel, who asseverates that he and his journals have never made any such statement and challenges the Press—or rather that section of the Press which has refused to accept the "ipse dixit" of our new prophet as being final in all matters —to prove its assertion. We are ready, nay more, we are delighted, to take up the gauntlet which the Pasha has thrown down. In the "Egyptian Standard" of March 12 an article, entitled "A Victim of Pigeon Shooting," was published by our contemporary. It contained the account of the accident as given by the Omdeh of Warrak and concluded with the remark that the French Consulate must make a thorough and impartial enquiry "so that people may understand that Egyptians cannot be hunted as understand that Egyptians cannot be hunted as game with impunity." On the following day an article appeared on the third page of the "Egyptian Standard." It contained no mention of the Omdeh of Warrak. After remarking that the affair had cause a painful sensation the writer of this article remarked that we" looked "at the whole incident from an impartial point of view," but that the fact was that M. Grandmoulin had shot a child either voluntarily or involuntarily. After this excursion into the realms of the obvious and certain remarks anent the question of trespass, the article closes with two questions, which we give as they appear in our lurid contemporary We wish.....to ask the following pertinent

shoot on land not his property?

"2) How is it possible that M. Grandmoulin still keeps his Government employ accused and quilty as he is of assassination?" We therefore reply to Mustapha Pasha

Kamel that in accusing us of wilful false-hood and in declaring that no accusation has been made against M. Grand-moulin in his organs, he is not speaking the truth or anything near the truth. His statements are as false as they are malicious, and when we think that their author is regarded as a leader by certain Nationalists, we are pted to remark with the Anglo-French diplomatists in "The Modern Traveller :"

There is one alternative explanation which

"If such a man as that," said they, "Is leader, they may go their way we offer in the hope that Mustapha Pasha Kamel's reputation for integrity may thereby be rescued (at the cost of his reputation for possessing any wits whatever). It is this that neither Mustapha Pasha nor his gladiators know enough English to be aware that the word "assassination" is not ised of accidental homicide, and that they are sufficiently unintelligent not to see that the effect of their phrases concerning impartiality is spoiled by the use of a term employed in the description of wilful murder. this case we should recommend our critic to take a course of elementary lessons in English and the rules of logic. But if, as we fear, our first hypothesis -that a deliberate falsehood has appeared in the "Egyptian

ALEXANDRIA AND CYRENAICA.

A NEW STEAMSHIP LINE.

Egypt has hitherto been without direct and regular communication by sea with Cyrenaica, and we are glad to hear that the enterprise of the Florio-Rubattino Company will soon remedy this want. The steamers of the new line, which the Italian Navigation Company will sho tly start, will call at Syracuse, Malta, Tripoli, Misrata, Benghazi, Dermah, A'exandria, Canea, and on the return voyage will proceed to Dermah, Benghazi, Tripoli, Malta, syracuse, and other Sicilian ports.

There will be four or five steamers on the new line, of about 8,000 tons each, and the departures will take place every fortnight. The company has come to an agreement with the Italian Government on the arrangement for this new service. There will be a regular mail service between the ports of call.

It is expected that a large amount of cattle and cereals will by this means find their way from Cyrenaica to Alexandria. There wi'l also be a considerable pilgrim traffic during the pilgrimage season.

The formal approbation of the Italian Parliament to the scheme will be given in all probability in May or June, and the regular sailings will begin immediately afterwards.

Cyrenaica used to be one of the most flourishing Greek colonies on the South Coast of the Mediterranean, and even under the blighting influence of centuries of Turkish misrule it is still a beautiful country and full of interesting remains of its former prosperity. Barley, dates, olives, oranges, lemons and vegetables are produced, and the principal imports are metals, British and o her European manufictures, tea, beads, wine and spirits, besides a number of articles for barter in Wadai, Bornu, and the Western S dan, whither caravans progeed from Tripoli; but the caravan trade, once the mainstay of the country, has seriously diminished of late years The principal articles of exports are ostrich feathers, iv ry, skins, sponges, hides, esparto grass, cattle and horses. The ancient ruins in Cyrenaica, i.e., at Cyrene, Ptolemais, and Apollania, are interesting to explorers, as well as those at Leptis Magna, which is close to Khoms, or 70 miles from the city of Tripoli; agricultural colonies of Cretan Moslem refugees are being formed in the neighbourhood. The town of Benghazi has a population of about 15,000, consisting of Arabs, Greeks, Maltase, and a few Levantines. The commerce in cereals, wool, cattle for Malta, and other agricultural produce, is considerable, when a

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

PRESS AND COPTIC PROTEST.

The stupefaction of the Nationalists at the Coptic protest to Lord Cromer against the eneral Assembly's proposals is immense. A correspondent of "Al Minbar" declares that when he first heard of it he believed that it was a mere invention of the "Egyptian Cazette, " but now he declares he is certain that the original idea came from Lord Cromer, who suggested the protest to a Coptic notable Our French Cairo contemporary, the "Journal du Caire," comments on the protest as fol-

La gravité d'un pareil acte est immense, l'on veut songer que la prospérité, et l'avenir de l'Egypte exigent impérieusement la bonne entente et l'accord parfait entre les musulmans et les coptes. Cette gravité n'a échappé à personne ; aussi la requête en question fait-elle actuellement les frais de toutes les conversations et se trouve-t-elle vivement commentée par une partie de la presse indigène et critiquée de façon acerbe par certains coptes.

The "Egyptian Standard" is incensed because our Greek contemporary, the "Phare d'Alexandrie," refuses to concur' with the "General Assembly's" extravagances and remarks.

It says: "Le Phare d'Alexandrie" adds its voice to the clamour raised against the Egyptian people It is strange that a Greek such as M. John Haicalis can so despise Lgyptian patriotism when he must be aware of the great influence played by the patriotic idea in the fortunes of his own country. We ask him the pertinent question why it was that the late Haicalis Pasha was of opinion, many years ago, that Egypt was ripe for inde-pendence. What has occurred to render the country less unfit for this measure?

CRUELTY AT HELOUAN.

TO THE FDITOR OF THE "EGYPTIAN GAZETTE

Sir, -Amongst the events in yesterday's at Helouan was a two-mile camel After the first mile, and when opposite races the grand-s and, one camel, being completely exhausted, lay down. The rider, helped by the native mob, including two policemen, by dist of flogging, made it rise. This happened three times, the poor animal, each time it rose, struggling a few paces forward and lying down until forced to rise by dint of flogging with sticks and kourbashes It was ut ering piteous groans, foaming at the mouth, bleeding from a cut on each flank, besides displaying other symptoms (which I need not mention) of nervous and physical exhaustion After the animal lay down the third time, the rider was forced to dismount and the camel was brought into the paddock. Such a disgraceful exhibition of wilful cruelty to a dumb animal I have not seen before in any part of the world. It seems to me that such exhibitions do not raise the standard of sport. I therefore venture to appeal to you, in the interests of dumb animals, for your support to prevent Dowleh, Persian Ambassador at Constantia repetition of s ch inhuman scenes, at nople, is coming to Egypt shortly. least before a European crowd composed largely of Britishers. L'ASSEMBLEE GENERALE

Monsieur le Directeur de l'"Egyptian Gazette".

Je vous serais bien obligé si vous vouliez bien insérer dans votre journal les quelques lignes qui suivent auxquelles votre impartialité ne refusera certainement pas la place. J'ai lu dans les colonnes de "l'Egyptian Gizette," que quelques personnes qui se disent Coptes out présenté à l'Agence Britannique une pétition pour exprimer leurs regrets à l'endroit des décisions prises a mois de Février pas é par l'assemblée Généra'e.

Or l'Assemblée Gén-rale représente toute la nation Egyptienne. Elle a par conséquent nécessairement exprimé les vœux de tous les Egyptiens, les Coptes aussi bien que les autres. Les personnes qui osent désavouer l'œuvre m jestueuse accomplie parl s députations égyptiennes ne peuvent donc avoir aucune qualite peur représenter tout a partie de la Nation En Egypte, comme partout ailleurs, les éléments de la Nation forment une seule et même unité indivisible dont le sort a toujours été et doit toujours être le même. C'est, en effet, grace à des démarches inavouées que les signataires de la p tition ont consenti à apposer leurs signatures.

Ils ont tous certainement été attirés par des promesses flatteuses ou obligés de signer par complaisance Le fait même dénote d'aille ra qu'ils n'ont aucune connaissance des institutions sociales modernes. La moindre notion de vas insisted upon and for this she sang "Annie ces institutions indique que l'Assemblée Géné-Laurie"; her accompaniments were played by rale, dans ses délibérations et décisions, les a représentés, comme elle a représenté tout le an old favourite, Mr F M. After this we were favoured with a ar sein de la nation, la division qu'ils ont au sein de la nation, la division qu'ils ont toujours vouln éviter. Les signataires les plus en vue sont d'ailleurs des protégés des autres nations qui ne sont nullement intéressés directement au sort de l'administration et de la Justice locales.

En tous cas, la fleur de la communauté copte et la jeunesse instruite se révoltent contre cet acte incorrect et déloval.

Nous en sommes tous vivement indignés. Nous protestons énergiquement contre cette représentation forcée et indigne de nous. Quelques signat tires ramassés dans la rue ou autrement par des promoteurs intéressés ne peuvent en aucune façon former une représentation copte Je ne vois d'ailleurs pas en quel honneur ou pour quel motif ces messieurs s'intitulent

Nous désavouons complètement, et la qualité de ces personnes, et leurs menées. Nous adherons au contraire pleinement en notre qualité d'Egyptiens et de bons patriotes aux vœux formés par l'Assemblée Générale et souhaitons de toute notre àme que ces vœ x soient réalis s au plus vite.

L'Egyptien, quel q 'il soit qui s'oppose à la propagation de l'instruction la diffusion de la science, aux réformes utiles des impôts et de l'administration, à la constitution d'une députation nationale régulière et bien armée, ne mérite pas ce nom.

EGYPT IN PARLIAMENT

The "Egyptian Standard" is very annoyed that the London newspapers do not publish the futile questions on Egyptian affairs which are asked in the House of Commons by a few Radical members. It remarks:
"It is strange that this 'gag' should have been got up in London where evidently it is the intention to banish the Egyptian question from the columns of even the most Liberal papers, thus preventing the echo of Lord Croer's misrule reaching the ears of the British

"We shall of course do our best to defraud the hopes of those who wish the truth to remain unknown and publish the account of the Parliamentary questions as taken from the Arabic paper 'Al Minbar.'

WHISKY AND SODA IN A NATIVE CHIEF'S TENT.

AN EIGHT MONTHS' TRAMP.

Mr A. F. Bory, a Swiss gentleman, has arrived in Cairo from the Cape, having travelled

The interest of this journey of eight months extraordinary advance of civilization and the facilities of travel in the remote regions traversed.

At Karonga, on Lake Nyassa, began really the first part of the journey away from civilization. The Stevenson road is about 220 miles in length, and runs across the Tanganyika Plateau from the north of Lake Nyassa to the south of Lake Tanganyika, and it takes about a fortnight to traverse Mr. Bory says: "Thanks to the courtesy of the German officials, I was allowed to cross the territory from Usambara to Bukoba, a route which is really closed to caravans. This part of the journey was the most interesting of the whole trip, as the country is still perfectly new. It took me 26 days along native tracks to reach being about 328 miles, and during this time I used to run away on the approach of the cawhich offers beautiful scenery. The Barundi are very tall and slim, and have perfect features the usual negro type. They are, however, of a very dark complexion. They wear sweeping garments of bark cloth and necklaces of beads and carved amulets, and generally a very heavy | The best gum, and the largest crop, come wooden or ivory bracelet on their left forearm. from Kordofan, an inferior quality being found

"I stopped for a day at Kanazi, a very pretty place overlooking the Victoria Nyanza and several islands The Sultan of Kanazi is a very important man in the country Five years ago he was dressed in skins and lived in a very rough hue. Now he has a substantial European house and is dressed in a kind of uniform. He received me in this house and offered me some whisky and soda. The Germans told me this change was due to the Uganda railway, which has brought civilization so near. Next day I reached Bukoba, the German military station on the Victoria Nyanza. Having obtained four of the Sultan's canoes I left for Entebbe in Uganda, and those days spent on the lake in native canoes made of planks sewn together with reeds and grass were a very curious experience. The natives usually sing whilst paddling the boat, and some of their songs are not without charm, though they always have a mournful strain.

"From Entebbe to Gondokoro I was again on a trade route, I avoided the Nile on account of the many mosquitoes, and kept to the old inland road Game was very plentiful and antelopes seemed to be quite fearless of the caravan,

"Thus I concluded my trip from South Africa to Egypt, which lasted eight months from the time I landed at Durban to my arrival in Cairo. The actual journey across Central Africa from Chinde, at the mouth of the Zambesi, to Gondolsoro on the Nile occupied six months, three of which I spent in tents, having covered 1,000 miles on foot. The trip did not entail any serious hardship or danger, my worst enemies being occasional bad water mosquitoes, and fever. I did not come acros any wild beasts, although I heard the roaring of lions several times.'

EGYPT'S EXPORTS.

GUM ARABIC.

In view of the fact that gum arabic form one of the more important of the minor exports from Egypt, we think a few remarks on the trade itself, and the methods of handling the raw products, may possibly be of some

The gum arabic exports for the last six through the very heart of Africa lies in its years show the fall in the aelling price during uneventful character, which testifies to the price per kilo was nearly 38 milliemes. (8 d), whilst I st year this figure dropped to 20 milliemes (5d). The yield, too, in 1906 was the lowest since 1901.

It is perhaps unneccessary to state that the gum is really the sap from a special kind of tree, which grows from 3 to 5 yards in height, whole forests of which are found in the Kordofan Province and also near Gedid in the White Nile Province The natives are free to collect the gum, the only tax being a royalty levied at Omdurman. This royalty, which last year was about PT. 12,2 6 a cantar (991bs,), varies according to the market price of the gum, and is fixed annually by the Sudan Government.

The seasons during which the trees yield their sap runs from December to May Prior Bukoba, on Victoria Nyanza, the distance to gathering the "crop," the natives prepare the trees by slightly cutting the bark only saw white people three times For the in numerous places. The sap then exudes, first ten days I did not see any natives, as they solidifies in the shape of large and small lumps, and is afterwards gathered by hand, such ravan, taking with them everything they gathering being done before the rainy season possessed. I then entered the Urundi country, commences.

Ambery and Bleached. In the latter case, -good nose and lips - a great contrast with the gum is merely expose I to the strong action of the sun generally in Omdurman - whilst in the former instance it is allowed to retain its natural amber colour.

> from Kordofan, an inferior quality being found in the Ghezireh Province. Very little of the latter, however, is handled by the European merchants, as there is practically no market for it abroad. The bulk of the Kordofan ambery gum is sold abroad in "sorts," which is th technical name for the raw product as delivered from the forests by the natives. The amount of grading done in Egypt and the Sudan is gradually becoming less and less, as the foreign buyer prefers to do this work himself. If done on this side, the sorting is usually done by native girls at either Omdurman, Cairo, or Alexandria.

After being collected, the gum is taken to the villages -principally Dueim and there sold by the native to the Sudanese brokers for cash. The goods are then forwarded by boat to Omdurman-which is the principal gum market in the Sudan—where they are re-packed for markets in strong double sacks holding about 300 lbs. Instead of calculating the usual 100 rotolis (99 lbs) to the cantar, the merchants at Omdurman receive 110 rotolis, the extra ten covering any loss on transit and all other waste.

The next stage on the journey to Europe is from Omdurman to Khartoum North by boat, the cost of transit, including all other charges, varying from P.T. 1 to P.T. 2 (2 d to 5d) the cantar (99 lbs)

Prior to the opening of the railway between Khartoum and Port-Sudan, the gum was carried either down the Nile by boat to Cairo, or by camels across the desert to Suakin, time taken in the latter case being 20 days, and the cost about PT 30 (6/1) the cantar but varying according o the supply of camels. Now, however, the journey to Port Sudan is done in about two days, th freight being P.T. 320 (£3:5:8 the ton of 1000 kilograms. This figure is reduced by 10 % for consignments of ten tons.

From Port-Sudan the gum goes by steame to Suez, where it is sometimes graded, and then either transhipped for Europe, America, or Australia as the case may be, or else sent on to Cairo or Alexandria by rail.

The principal markets for gum arabic are Marseilles, Havre, Hamburg, New-York, London, Liverpool, Antwerp, Barcelona, Melbeurne, and Trieste.

The whole of the export trade is practically in the hands of Europeans, the shipping terms of payment being cash against documents, or from one to three months credit. In the case of a market like Melbourne, the buyer usually has a bank credit in London, upon which the seller is at liberty to draw.

The confectionery trade is perhaps the prinipal purchaser of gum arabic, though large number of other industries, e.g., chemical works, printing and dyeing mills, letter press printers, and so on, are interested in this product of the Sudan.

At the present moment, the Sudan article experiences great competition from the Senegal gum, whilst in certain trades we understand that dextrine-a substance manufactured from the starch extracted from the potato-replaces gum when the price of the latter is too high (Journal of the British Chamber of Commerce.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF LO.G.T.

An LO.G.T. correspondent writes :-

On Thursday evening last an imposession of the International Order of Good Templars was held at Kassasine, or as we may more historically term it, the great battlefield of Tel-el-Kebir.

At this spot, where our brave dead comrades sleep, the first Good Templary meeting was held, a fitting commanoration to their dead comrades' glorious achievament in the suppression of the notorious rebel Osman Digna. Here, too, on the morning in quastion, we fought a hard battle after a prolonged night

It was suggested, supported, and carried unanimously that we hold an amalgamated session at Cairo at an early date—date of meeting to be published in "Egyptian Gazatte." The next item was a suggestion restricting members rejoining who had violated the obligation, unless they agreed to remain on probation for a period not exceeding 6 months. The views of the members may be summarized as follows:

OBITUARY,

SIR THOS HANBURY, K.C.V.O.

The last papers from Rome bring us the ews of the death from influenza of Sir Thos Hanbury, K.C.V.O., so well known as the creator and proprietor of the famous garden near the village of La Mortola, a mile or so from Ventimiglia, on the Western Riviera. He was born in 1832, and was brother of the distinguished pharmacologist, the late Daniel Bell Hanbury of Clapham, born in 1825, who joined at an early age the well known firm of Co., who had succeeded Messrs. Bevanat Plough-court, Lombard-street, City. William Allen, F.R.S., F.L.S., the senior partner, was president of the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain, which he had been mainly instr mental in founding, and a great philanthropist as well as scientist. He died in 1843 at Lindfield, in Sussex, where he had established schools, workshops, and playgrounds for both sexes. Daniel Hanbury took a great interest in the botanical determination of the sources of obscure vegetable dr gs, and, since 1850, published numerous papers on the subject. In 1855 he was elected F.L.S.; in 1857 be became treasurer of the Linnean Society; and, in 1867, FRS. He died in 1875 at his residence at Clapham, after greatly contributing to our knowledge of Chinese medicinal and economic plants by examining and describing the vegetable products transmitted to him by his brother Thomas, now just deceased. The latter was a nerchant at Shanghai from 1853 to 1871, and purchased the estate of the Orengo family of Ventimiglia, then an olive grove, with the "Palazzo" of that name as a residence, in 1866. He created the celebrated garden, now existing, assisted by his brother Daniel. A year before his death the latter had published, in 1874, in conjunction with Professor F. A. Flückiger of Strassburg University, a learned and valuable work called "Pharmacographia, or a History of the Principal Drugs of Vegeta ble Origin in Great Britain and British India,' the historical information in which is due to Hanbury. A second edition was published in 1879, and a French one in 1878, with notes by Dr. J. L. de Lanessan of Paris. A year after his death Daniel Hanbury's scientific papers were collected and published by Mr Joseph Ince, in 1876, and his fine herbariun of 610 species of plants is now in possession of the Pharma-ceutical Society, which published a catalogue of them in 1892 His name was immortalised in that of a new genus of Mexican C curbitacea the most important volumes of his botanical library was presented to Kew by his brother, the late Sir Thomes, in 1893. The latter was a great benefactor to the neighbourhood of Ventimiglia, to which he had presented a library and museum, and, quite recently, gave £2,000 towards the creation of a public garden there. He, also, presented the University of Genoa with a Botanical Institute inaugurated at the International Botanical Congress of 1892. His garden at La Mortola, covering nearly 100 acres, has long been celebrated as having the finest collection of acclimatized plants fro finest collection of acclimatized plants from all quarters of the globe in existence, in spite of the great dryness of the climate, there being only about forty rainy days in winter and two hundred cloudless ones in the year. The catalogue of 1889 gives the number of plants in the garden as 3,60°, but many additions have since been made, and the possibilities of acclimatization are mar ellously exemplified. GORDON CUP POLO TOURNAMENT.

The first match of the tournament was play ed before a large gathering of spectators on Monday afternoon, the opposing teams being as follows :-

Inniskilling Dragoons I. (SGRATCH). + 10 Mr. W. Holland I Mr. Furber. + 10 GOALS. Bowen II. Capt. Kennedy. Major Paterson III. Major Stevenson. Haig back). Capt. Stoney (back)

The Dragoons started 10 goals to the bad and made very little headway the first chukker. The K.O.S B. team played a keen and combined game. It was only just as the bell sounded that the Dragoons scored their first goal. In the 2nd chukker, the Dragoons came away and scored a goal in the first minute. Then they spent four minutes hitting on both sides of the goal posts, but always just failing to hit through. They eventually succeeded and quickly followed this up with another, the score at half-time being: Drazoons, 4 goals; K.O.S.B., 10 goals. Left with 16 minutes play to make 6 goals the Dragoous pressed hard, but their same bad luck attended them, their shots at goal being singularly unfortunate, and at the call of time they were still 3 goals to the bad. To start 10 goals behind is a big undertaking, but with any luck the Dragoons would have won. At the same time the K.O.S.B. team played very well and pluckily, and they are to be congratulated on their win Score : Dragoons, 7 goals ; K.O.S.B., 10 goals. 2ND MATCH.

Inniskilling Dragoons II. + 7 Goals. Mr. Eleury Teulon. Mr. Merriman. Mr. Mixon. Capt. Holland.

The Dragoons' second team played an unexpectedly sound game. The E A team failed to find a proper combination. The match was a level one, only one goal being the difference at the call of time. The Dragoons' 2nd team started 4 goals up, this being the difference between the handicap.

At the call of time the scores were : E. A.,

goals; Dragoons 2nd team, 5 goals. 3RD MATCH.

Staff and Departmental (+ 5 GOALS)
Mr. Vandeleur I. (SCRATCH) Capt Hadow I. Ogilby II Capt. Dunbar II. Mr. de Frevilla III. Capt. Bartlett III. Mr. Jenkinson (back). Mr. Marsham, back

Major Pirie was away, so Mr. Marsham took his place. The Tourists started 5 goals up, and very soon added another goal to their score. The Staff, however, soon got together and some brilliant shots by Captains Dunbar and Bartlett resulted in several goals. At the beginning of the last chukker the game was One more was soon added by the Staff, thus winning by one goal.

Three matches will be played on Wednesday.

BULLETIN DE LA BOURSE

(Aujourd'hui à midi et demie.) Comme hier et les jours présédents, les tranctions ont roulé principalement sur les Ritz Hotels et les Arditi, mais l'animation gagre pen à peu le reste de la cote, l'Agricole, la Delta Land, la Nile Land, l'Investment (Abdy), Les Ritz Hotels ont fait jusqu'à 8 8/8 pour revenir en claure à 8 8/16. L'Arditi a atteint 1 1/2 pour fi ir demandée à 1 7/16; la part de dimanche 17 Mars, à 11 h. a.m., a approuvé le fondateer vant 26 livres.

La Delta Light reprend à 11 1/8, la Casso di Sconto à 237, 233 et 221; la Nile Land Lavant à 15/16.

Par contre l'Agricole revient à 9, les Cotton Mills à 5/3, la Barque d'Athènes à 129 1/2, les Nungovich à 27 3/4, la Delta Land à 3 3/4, les Estates à 2 5/32, l'Urbaine à 7 9/32 l'ancierne et 6 3/4 la nouvelle, le Comptoir à 6 15/16 l'ancienne 6 11/16 la nonvelle et 8 la fondateur. le Banco di Roma à 113 et la Banque d'Orien

Tandis que les privilégiées Tramways montent à 183, les Dividendes fléchissent à 340. Le mouvement anormal sur les foudateurs Land Investment and Building s'ariéte : l'action reprend à 15/16, tandis que la fondateur L'Anglo-American Nile a été traitée ce matin à 4 5/8. Le dernier cours était de 5 3/8. L'Iuvestment (Abdy) fléchit à 1 1/32-1/16; mais la tendance en c'ôture se raffermit.

Pour l'Anglo-Ezyptian Land Allotment, on nons informe que le premier rapport annuel H. de Vries et Boutigny. actuellement en préparation constituera pour les actionnaires une agréable surprise. Les bation des nouveaux administrateurs, nommés affaires de l'Agricultural Bank of Cyprus, fon- en remplacement des anciens qui se sont redés par cette société, ont pris l'année dernière tirés. Le nouveau conseil a été reconstitué un grand développement, et il n'est pas exa comme suit : M.M. H. de Vries, H. Boutigny, géré de dire que la plupart des proprié és A. Colucci et Dr. C. Vermeulen. sociales ont actuellement une valeur effective supérieure de 40 à 60 o/o à celle indiquée dans bilan. Le succès de l'Agricultural Bank a dépassé tontes les prévisions ; durant le pre- courant, au ciège social à Alexandrie. A l'ordre mier trimestre de 1907, cet établissement a reça trois fois plus de demandes d'emprunt présentation des comptes arrêtés au 31 Janvie sur hypothèque que durant tout le cours de 1907 ; fixation du dividende ; élections et nol'année dernière.

A propos du projet de règlementation de 'a bourse, on sait déjs que le Gouvernement avait demandé aux Corporations d'Agents de change du Caire et d'Alexandrie de lui présenter leurs observations à ce saiet. Mais, comme les observations des deux Corporations diffe raient sensiblement, calles des courtiers en va leurs du Caire montrant beaucoup plus d'ex gendes que celles des courtiers en valeurs d'Alexandrie qui, tout en demandant que'ques concessions, s'efforquient de se conformer pour le reste aux desiderata du Gouvernement Ezyptien, celui-ci a prié les deux Corporations de a'entendre ensemble pour lui présenter un texte unique d'observations.

C'est dans ce but que les deux comités sont actuellement en pourparlers. On attend même incessamment à A'exandrie l'arrivée du président de l'Association Cairote pour ré liger le texte définit f qui devra être remis au Ministère d'ici au 25 Mars, date à laquelle expire ledélai accordé à cet effet par le Gouvernement.

PICTURE POST CARDS. "The Egyptian Cazette" Series

is the most artistic collection to be found in Egypt.

TO OUR VISITORS.

The Egyptian Gazette has much pleasure in presenting to its subscribers the accompanying description of some of the many interesting routes by which they may travel homewards. Great care has been taken to arrange them as accurately and concisely as possible, and it will be found that none of them are fraught with distance in choosing the route home with difficulty. In choosing the route home there are several things to be considered. To begin with there is the difference in climate between Egypt and the various points at which you may arrive in Europe.

This depends partly upon the month in which you leave Eypt, for Cairo in January may be a little wamer then the Riviera, and possibly not so warm as Sicily, bot in March it will be warmer than Reme, and more uniformly warm than many other places in Europe. Many people leave Egypt far too early in the year, for as a rule the weather in April and May is perfect. The warmest place to go to on leaving Egypt is Sicily.

Some will want to take into consideration

Some wil want to take into consideration the number of days to be spent at sea, and we therefore subjoin a list showing the time occupied on each of the various routes between Egypt and the Continent of Europe.

They are as follows :-The long sea routes—from Port Said or Alexandria to Plymouth, Southampton, London or Liverpool—occupy about 14 days. The short ones are as f llows:—

Port Said or Alexandria to Brindisi 3 days Alexandria to Messina 3 "... Port Said or Alexandria to Marseilles 5 "... Alexandria to Venice and Trieste... 31
Alexandria to Naples ... 3
Port Said to Genoa ... 5
Port Said to Naples ... 4
Alexandria to Naples ... 4
Alexandria to Constantinople ... 4 Alexandria to Constantinopie ... 2
Alexandria to Piragus 2
Port Said to Gibraltar 7

The steamers of the P & O , North German Lloyd, Orient, and Messageries Maritimes are the largest. The Anchor, British India, Bibby and Henderson Lines are also excellent, and their steamers are largely patronised by travellers to Egypt.

As regards the train journeys from Cairo the shortest is that to Alexandria, without change (3 hours). That to Port Said can now be made without change in 4 ½ hours.

be made without enange in *2 nous.

The least expensive way to England is by the Moss, Papayanni, Prince, and Westcott lines of steamers from Alexandria to Liverpool.

The German Levant line has also good steamers from Alexandria to Liverpool. from Alexandria to Hamburg.

The quickest through Continental routes are by P. & O. Brindisi express from Port Said, and the Austrian Lloyd Trieste-Vienna express from Alexandria

As regards heavy I ggage, it must be borne in mind that very little luggage is allowed free on the railways of E rope, but there are several good and responsible forwarding agents in Egypt who undertake at a fixed charge to deliver packages to any address in Europe.

The quickest manner of getting to Europe.

The quickest manner of getting to Europe from P rt Said is undoubtedly by the fast Mail Steamers "Osiris" and "Isls" to Brindisi. One of these leaves Port Said every week, as soon as possible after receiving the Indian mails from the great liner arrived from mails from the great liner arrived from Bombay.

These small but comfortable ships have enormously powerful engines, and attain a very high rate of speed. They are called the "Ferry boats," having been specially built to carry the British mail from Port Said to Brindisi. If you are going straight through to England you will find the train waiting at Brindisi which will take you to Calais without changing It has complete arrangements for sleeping and eating on board, and you should arrive in London on the fifth day from leaving Port Said.

The direct route to Sicily is by the Florio Rubattino Co's steamers, which leave Alexaudria weekly for MESSINA, where one takes train to TAQRMINA, one of the most charming and popular places on the island. Giardini is the station at which to alight, and the drive up to Taormina is most delightful, oce pying about one hour. In and around the town is method interest the visitor The theatre is forcek origin, but restored under the Romans. anout one nour in and around the town is metho interest the visitor The theatre is f Greek origin, but restored under the Romans. QATANIA is the starting place for the ascent of Etna, and here also is a fine Cathedral. The Greek, Roman, and Saracenic remains that are found all over the island, are an endless source of pleasure. SYRACUSE has an interesting history, having been a Greek city, which was designed by Demosthenes in m.c. 413, and taken by the Romans in m.c. 212, when Archimedes was slain—his tomb is to be seen. The cathedral was once an ancient pagan temple. PALERMO, with about 300,000 inhabitants, is the capital of the Island, and enjoys a deligthful climate. Much of interest is to be found in this fine city. The Palazzo Reale is of Saracenic origin and close to it the church of S. Giovannia degli Erimiti with its picturesque cloisters. The Cathedral, Moseum, Botanic Gardens, Villa Giulia and Royal Park are also worth a visit

CENTRAL ITALY.

The fine steamers of the North German loyd leave Alexandria every Wednesday uring the season for Naples, the voyage during the season for Naples, the voyage being only 3 days.

NAPLES is also reached in 10 hours from Palermo by the Florio Rubattino Co.'s *teamers, which leave daily. One cannot approach Naples or leave it without wishing to explore some of its islands, besides the lovely places on its bay—Castellamare and Sorrento. Leaving the Eternal City with much regret, a railway journey of five hours brings yo to FLORENCE, where another week can well be spent admiring the City of Flowers and its surrounding co ntry. In Florence itself the churches and galleries are of absorbing interest whilst the local promenades and excursions should not be omitted. The Cascine is the most attractive and fashionable promenade in Florence, whilst the Viale dei Colli, one of the finest walks in Europe opened 35 years ago, goes, winding up through the hills a distance of four miles. The most delightful excursion outside Florence is that to Vallombrosa, with its Monastery 3,300 feet above the sea level. This is made first by ordinary train from Florence to St. Ellero, theree by cognitive the sea level. sea level. This is made first by ordinary train from Florence to Sc. Ellero, theige by each wheel railway to Saltino. The ascent through groves of oaks takes an hour, and most striking panoramas are unfolded to view.

PISA is easily reached from Florence in about 2 hours; here there is a fine Cathedral at the Leaning Tower. A stay of at least one night should if possible be made in order to enjoy the view from the Campanile at sunset.

VENICE is a 5 hours' journey by rail from Milan, and one of the most delightful places imaginable to pass a quiet stay. The total absence of vehicular traffic strikes one as very absence of vehicular traffic strikes one as very leavely. absence of vehicular traffic strikes one as very strange; no horse, cart, carriage or bicycle is to be seen, and leat there is the sound of life at every turn. The approach the Venice from the Adriatic is unlike that of any other seaport. The twen seems to be gradually, like Aphrodite, born of the sea, no hills behind, no stretches of rock, but first the tops of Campaniles appear above the horizon, then slewly the whole glittering town rises like a fairy mirage out of the calm lagnon.

Going northwards from Milan you make the tour of the beautiful Italian lakes.

COMO, the birthplace of the younger Pliny, is reached in one and a quarter hours by train by way of Monza.

by way of Monza:

Boats leave Como frequently for the other towns on the lake, which is very beautiful, and the scenery on either side going up the lake is most ench nting CERNOBBIO is a charming spot; then come Tremezzo, Cadenabbia, and Menaggio with the pretily-situated town of Bellaggio opposite. The walk from Tremezzo along the shore of the lake to Menaggio is most enjoyable A steam tram runs from Menaggio to Pierlezza on Lake Lugano in three-quarters of an hour, then steamer to Lugano in two-and-three-quarter hours. by way of Monza:
